

Brenau University is an independent, private, non-profit institution. Its sources of income are principally from student fees, gifts and endowments.

Brenau is governed by a self-perpetuating Board of Trustees of up to forty members. The purpose of the Board is to set policies that ensure academic excellence in a cost effective environment.

A graphic depiction of the administrative organization of Brenau University is found on the following page.